KING TAKES UP
U. S. PROTEST

England's Ruler Personally Interested in Negotiations Relative to President's Note.

LONDON PRESS IS AMIABLE

Washington Officialdom Takes Comfort From the Report of Ambassador Page That Attitude of British People is Friendly.

By HERBERT TEMPLE.

International News Service Correspondent.
London, Jan. 4.—From a high government source it is learned that King George is taking a personal part in the foreign office negotiations relative to the reply to President Wilson's note protesting against interference with American commerce by British warships at sea. It is understood that the king, Foreign Minister Sir Edward Grey, Prime Minister Asquith and other influential members of the government are in favor of an immediate, cordial reply.

Following the exchange of more notes it is expected that an international arrangement will be effected whereby American ships will be freed from delay, searches and seizures by British warships and the same principle of non-interference, except in special cases, will be maintained toward other neutral shipping.

The French and Russian foreign offices are reported to be in thorough accord with the British foreign office on the matter.

Press is Amiable:
Since the publication here of the full text of President Wilson's note the British press has adopted a much more amiable attitude toward the United States' protest. Practically all the influential newspapers are urging the government to meet the United States' half way and to lose no time in effecting a solution of the neutral shipping problem which will prevent friction in the future.

One paper, the London Statist, professes the belief that British bankers are really behind the neutral trade over which the question of interference has arisen.

Washington, Jan. 4.—An examination of precedents disclosed, according to officials here, a point strongly in favor of the American contention in its note of protest to Great Britain against interference with American shipping.

It is that this government before the close of the Civil war rescinded orders issued earlier in the conflict to officers of the United States navy to seize without previous search all merchant vessels of neutrals on the high seas which were suspected of carrying contraband to the Confederate states. This point is regarded as especially significant when taken in connection with the fact that when England was the neutral and the United States the belligerent, Great Britain moved to prevent indiscriminate seizures and the United States was obliged to recall its orders.

British Attitude Friendly.
Washington officialdom took further comfort from the report of Ambassador Page at London that the general attitude of the British government and people toward the American protest was entirely friendly. It serves to strengthen the general belief in both official and diplomatic circles that a mutual basis would be reached for an agreement to relieve exporters of this country from the uncertainty under which they have been laboring.

SURVIVOR TELLS HOW BATTLESHIP WAS DESTROYED

Britain's Great War Vessel Formidably Vanished in Five Minutes After Attack.

HIT BOTH FORE AND AFT

Survivors Picked Up by Trawlers Had All Their Clothing Blown Off by Explosion—Weather Was Rough and Seas High.

London, Jan. 4.—The admiralty issued an official announcement saying that thirty-five officers lost their lives in the sinking of the Formidable.

Paris, Jan. 4.—An unconfirmed report was circulated here that the British battleship Formidable was sunk off Portsmouth, the chief naval station in England.

By JOHN C. FOSTER.
International News Service Correspondent.
London, Jan. 4.—That the British battleship Formidable, which was sunk in the English channel off Devonshire New Year's day, was destroyed by one or more German submarines has been established. According to information secured from survivors, the battleship was attacked on the fishing banks off Dartmouth and was torpedoed both fore and aft, sinking within less than five minutes.

Although the admiralty announced that at least seventy-one of the crew of 750 were saved by another light cruiser, it is believed that more survivors were picked up by fishing boats that were in the neighborhood and that the loss of life will be between 625 and 650. Some survivors were taken to Plymouth, others to Dartmouth.

The loss of the Formidable, the twentieth big ship to be lost by England since the war began, caused gloom throughout the United Kingdom and has emphasized the fact that the admiralty must exercise more caution than ever before in moving warships through English waters.

The destruction of the sixteen-year-old warship is another success for the German admiralty in its "whittling down" process. Naval experts writing to the English papers declare that the price being paid by England in warships is inevitable so long as England elects to hold domination of the waters.

Most of the survivors of the Formidable, who were taken to Dartmouth, were in the hospital suffering from burns, exposure or the shock.

Survivor Tells of Disaster.
"We here had time to save ourselves before the ship went down," said one of them. "The Formidable sank very rapidly, fore and aft. The weather was very rough, as the gale which had been blowing for several days had just begun to die down."

Some of the survivors who were picked up by the trawler Providence and taken to Torbay had all their clothes blown off by the explosion. One of the men said the ship seemed to be lifted off of the water. Then all was enveloped by an enormous cloud of thick black smoke. The magazine exploded, tearing the ship apart just as she settled.

The rescue of the survivors by the Providence was made under dangerous and exciting circumstances. The crew of the trawler was amazed while running before the gale for shelter to

PLAN SHORT SESSION

Illinois Lawmakers Expected to Hurry Up Their Work.

Three Reasons, One Political, Another Financial and a Third Both Financial and Political.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 4.—The session of the Forty-ninth general assembly, which will begin tomorrow at noon, promises to be the shortest gathering of the legislature in several years. There are three principal reasons for this outlook—one political, another financial and a third both financial and political.

The financial reason, which is the more potent, results from the fact that the state public utilities commission has promulgated a rule in keeping with the act under which it was created that no free passenger transportation shall be given by the railroads of the state.

Members of the general assembly for the first time in history will have to pay their railroad fares to and from Springfield. Heretofore the members have been responsible for the log-jamming of legislation into the end of a six-month session have been the foremost users of free de luxe privileges on the railroads.

When the members of the Forty-eighth assembly voted to pass the utilities act probably not more than a dozen knew that they were voting away the free-pass graft.

It was a joke on the house of representatives which killed an anti-pass bill after the senate had passed it, to have it unwittingly vote away its own free rides.

Leaders in the movement to keep a session said they would be on the job until the pay of legislators was raised from $1,000 a year to $3,500, but they went to sleep when the utilities act came along. As a result the next legislature probably will adjourn sine die as early as April, instead of in June, as has been the custom.

REORGANIZE SERBIAN ARMY

Serb Invasion of Hungary Will Probably Be Launched Some Time This Month.

Nish, Jan. 4.—Crown Prince Alexander, commander-in-chief of the Serbian field forces, has begun the reorganization of the Serbian army. The Serb invasion of Hungary will probably be launched this month. The following official announcement is made: "The Austrians attempted to bombard Belgrade with four monitors but were driven off. The defenses facing the Danube at Belgrade are being strengthened. All of Serbia is now free of Austrian soldiers."

And a small open boat driving under their lee through mountainous seas with an oar hoisted bearing a sailor's scarf. After desperate efforts those on the trawler succeeded in getting a rope to the cutter and brought it with great skill to their stern.

The naval men began to jump aboard, but even then there was danger of losing men, as the seas were running thirty feet high. After a half-hour's work, however, all were safely rescued. One lad of 19 was so exhausted that he required immediate treatment to save his life.

When all had left the cutters it came along, as it was full of water, having a hole under the hull.

Some of the rescued men had little clothing and they were cared for in the engine room. The naval men had been in the cutter for nearly twelve hours.

CONSCRIPTION

IS TO BE ENFORCED BY GREAT BRITAIN TO INCREASE THE ARMY AND NAVY.

Berlin Says Relations Are Critical—Encounter Between Germans and Portuguese.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.
London.—A hint that the British government contemplated the introduction of conscription for increasing the army and navy was dropped by Thomas J. MacNamara, Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty, while speaking at the Browning Settlement.

Referring to the fact that there were many thousands of young men in the United Kingdom without dependents, who had not answered the call to the colors, Mr. MacNamara said: "If they think they are going to enjoy a life of freedom at the other fellows' expense they won't enjoy it much longer."

The recruiting boom which commenced after the holidays continues. As a result of six open-air meetings at Cardiff, addressed by wounded soldiers, there was an extraordinary rush to the recruiting offices and the recruiting officers were kept busy until an early hour in the morning.

At one meeting alone 5,000 men hared their heads when the national anthems of the allies were played.

Berlin Says Relations Are Critical.
Copenhagen.—Berlin states that relations between Germany and Portugal have reached a critical point because of the Portuguese movements on the frontier of Angola.

SLAIN IN THEIR MOUNTAIN HOME.

Luray, Va.—Four persons were found dead, with their skulls crushed, in their mountain home. They were Mrs. Charles Burner, 27 years old, and her three children, James, 5; Walter, 4; and a babe 1 year old. The whereabouts of the father, Mr. Burner, is unknown. He recently was released by state authorities after he served a sentence for felonious assault. The children apparently had been killed as they slept, but here evidence that the mother had fought desperately for her life.

EXTEND FIGHT ON TRACHOMA

GOVERNMENT CAMPAIGN ON EYE AILMENT WILL BE EXTENDED THIS YEAR.

STATE IS VITALLY INTERESTED

Spread of Contagion Increases the Number of Public Charges on Hands of Counties.

(Special Frankfort Correspondence.)

Frankfort.—Efforts of the United States public health service to eradicate trachoma, a dangerous and contagious eye disease, in the mountain sections of Kentucky, are to be more extensive during 1915 than at any time in the past, it is said here. The area where this disease is prevalent is about one-third of the state, nearly all of it mountainous.

The latter months of 1914 found the disease spreading in many places, among these being the public schools at Lexington. A total of nearly 2,000 patients were treated last year at the three small hospitals at Jackson, Hyden and Hindman. Every effort will be made to have the government establish more of these hospitals.

The state has a vital interest in that the persons who have been treated in these hospitals are in a great many instances without means to pay for medical treatment, and if not given relief, stand to become public charges on the counties or the state. Many persons who have been almost blind for months or years have been cured and made self-sustaining through the ministrations of these hospitals.

The state legislature will be urged to give attention to the matter this winter. The extension of the disease into the mountains of Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia and West Virginia makes it probable that legislative action will be taken in those states also.

Contest "Dry" Victory.

Attorneys for the "wets" have filed a supersedeas bond for an appeal against the decision of the contest board in the recent prohibition election. Their grounds of appeal are that the status of territory in which a prohibition election is held remains the same pending litigation that it was prior to the election, provided the contestants prosecute their appeal and execute supersedeas bond. Bourbon county was "wet" prior to the election and could not become "dry" until 60 days after the judgment of the contest board was entered of record. This judgment was not entered until November 11, and so the day upon which the county would become "dry" under the new act would be January 11, but before that time the "wets" will prosecute their appeal and this will be within 60 days on the rendition of the judgment as the code provides. With a supersedeas issued prior to January 11 an order will direct that nothing more be done in the matter until the circuit court passes on the contest, the "wets" say. From that decision either may appeal, but a supersedeas bond executed by the "drys" would not close the saloon provided the "wets" won the circuit court, because the territory was "wet" prior to the election.

Objects to "Greasy" Postoffice.

Postoffices, even though located in mountain "runs," covers and hollows, should have euphonious names, in the opinion of Postmaster Burleson. That is the reason why Kentucky no longer has a postoffice called "Lower Greasy." Postmaster General Burleson just wouldn't stand for it. It was not the "Lower" that he objected to. It might have been "Upper," or "Big" or "Little" or "Much" Greasy and it would not have made any difference to the office being greasy, and for that reason the name of Lower Greasy, Ky., has been changed to Offutt, Ky. A member of congress to whom the postmaster general talked quipped him as saying: "The name Lower Greasy as applied to a postoffice in Kentucky is apt to detract from the business of that office."

Make Monthly Tobacco Reports.

Tobacco warehouses throughout the state must comply with the law passed by the last legislature and report to the Department of Agriculture each month the amount of tobacco sold during the preceding month. Notices to this effect are being sent the warehouses by Commissioner of Agriculture Newman. The sales of tobacco must be classified showing the number of pounds of new tobacco sold, also the number of pounds of old tobacco sold or resold.

Merge Insurance Companies.

Director of the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Co. and of the Citizens' National Life Insurance Co., at separate meetings have unanimously voted in effect with splendid results.

companies by adopting resolutions embracing the terms of the proposed merger. According to the terms approved by the directors, the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Co., which will have capital stock of $500,000, assets of about $4,500,000 and insurance in force of approximately $40,000,000. The event will aggregate $50,000,000.

Set Limit on Bonds.

Sheriffs must make bond for the collection of the state revenues with the state auditor by March 1. Blanks for this purpose are being mailed the sheriffs by Assistant Auditor G. B. Likens. On or before March 1 all of the sheriffs must make final settlement with the state auditor and receive a quitus from him and the fiscal court of their respective counties for the collection of taxes for the previous year. It is necessary for a sheriff to make three bonds. First he must make his official bond annually by the first of January. Then he must make bond for the collection of the state's revenue and a separate bond for the collection of the county's revenue. The state bond must be made in duplicate, one copy of which is filed in the county clerk's office and the other copy filed with the state auditor. A. T. Beard, sheriff of Breckenridge county, is the nineteenth sheriff to make final settlement with the auditor and receive his quitus for the collection of taxes this year. On the same date last year only twelve sheriffs had received their quitus.

Put Jail Prisoners on County Roads.

Reduction of the maintenance expense of public roads in Jefferson county by the employment of able-bodied prisoners in the county jail in their upkeep is being advocated by County Judge Samuel W. Greene, of Lexington. If the idea is adopted, all able-bodied persons sentenced to jail in the circuit court there will be employed in road work. Under the present system it costs the county 75 cents per day to feed each prisoner, while under a new law, passed at the last session of the general assembly, the county has the authority to work its jail prisoners on the roads. The employment of the prisoners will result in a big saving to the county annually and at the same time will not deprive the jailer of his fee for feeding keep. According to figures presented to the levy committee it costs the county approximately $45,000 annually for the feed of jail prisoners. At the recent meeting of the County Judges' association in Louisville several of the officials from various sections of the state said they had placed the system in effect with splendid results.

ANOTHER LOAD.

Secretary McAdoo declares that the ocean steamer freight rates are entirely too high.

He and the President were much rejoiced when the Interstate Commerce Commission allowed the increase in the freight rates asked for by the railroads, which adds a burden on the people of about $20,000,000 annually. The President and he favored the taxation of our interstate commerce by repealing the tolls exemption, which added a great burden to the people by taxing some of the freights which he now says are entirely too high.

Herd and Lake Held Over.

The case of the Commonweal against Herd and Baker, charged with the murder of Timothy Lakes, was held before Judge Shackelford Thursday. The defendants pleaded not guilty.

The proof, which was somewhat circumstantial, was in substance as follows:

Lakes, Baker and Herd were in one room of the residence of the dead man and had been engaged in stripping tobacco. They had suspended the work for the day at noon, and after dinner they were having a jolly time drinking and playing. Some discussion had arisen about a trade of pistols between Herd and Lakes. Lakes and Herd engaged in a contest shooting at a target through an open window. All of the loads in Lakes' pistol were fired and two cartridges remained in Herd's pistol. It was made known that Lakes had no other cartridges and his pistol was taken by his son Melvin and put away in an adjoining room. Mrs. Lakes came into the room where the three men were seated around a stove and Herd invited her to take a drink of whisky from a flask which he had which she declined to do, and picking up the flask, took it into an adjoining room and set it down. About this time she heard the report of a pistol and went back to the door of the tobacco room, she was unable to get it open, and said that she heard Herd and Baker walk towards the door hurriedly and then the door was opened and they ran out. Herd had his pistol in his hands. Baker said to Mrs. Lakes that Lakes had killed himself. This Mrs. Lakes denied and said: "You have killed him!" Her son, Melvin, then undertook to get his father's gun from the rack with the intention of shooting Herd and Baker, but was prevented from so doing by his mother. Herd and Baker ran from the house and went into hiding.

Young Lakes went for assistance, a nearby magistrate was notified and he summoned a coroner's jury, who came to the premises and reviewed the remains. An examination of the body showed that a bullet had penetrated the head, entering on the left side about three inches above the left ear and coming out a little above and behind the right ear. The frontal bone above the right eye was crushed in. An examination of the purse of Mr. Lakes showed that a ten dollar bill ($10) and a five dollar bill ($5), which he had had in it in the morning, was missing. Both defendants denied having committed the crime and said that Lakes shot himself, but Mrs. Lakes and Melvin Lakes both stated that Herd said to them when he came from the room that he had killed Lakes and that he would also kill Melvin Lakes if he took his father's gun from the rack.

The theory of the Commonwealth was that Lakes had been knocked in the head with a "black-jack," and the proof showed that Baker was the owner of a black-jack that the shot was fired from the pretense of making it appear that Lakes had killed himself.

After the conclusion of the trials, which were held separately, Judge Shackelford held both defendants over without bond to await the action of the grand jury at its next February term.

The Commonwealth was represented by County Attorney R. H. Crooke and Grant E. Lilly. The defendant Baker was defended by Capt. W. T. Short and the defendant Herd by C. C. Wallace.

Later, Judge Shackelford Saturday granted each of the defendants bond in the sum of $2,500, which they gave and were released.

DEATHS

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Francis and family have just passed through the deep waters of affliction in the loss of the youngest member of the family, their son, Louis, who died Dec. 24. He was a young man of sterling qualities. He had been a great sufferer, but bore his afflictions with patience and fortitude. Some years ago he made a bright profession of religion. The funeral services took place at the residence of his parents on the 26th, services by Rev. B. C. Horton, of the Methodist church, assisted by Rev. A. J. Tribble. His body was laid to rest by loving hands in our beautiful city of the dead.

May the richest blessings of our loving and merciful Savior rest and abide with the afflicted family, and especially with his loving, christian mother.

A Friend.

Mr. John D. Lanier, aged 79, unmarried, died at Doyleville Saturday night from the infirmities of old age. He had been ill for over a year. The burial was in the Reeves burying-ground on Sunday afternoon, where services were held at the grave by Eld. Sumner, pastor of the Baptist church. All his brothers and sisters are dead.

Mr. Barclay For Assessor.

In this issue of the Climax-Madisonian appears the announcement of Mr. J. W. Barclay for Assessor of this county. He is the son of H. P. Barclay, a well-known citizen of the Red House neighborhood, but himself a resident of Union precinct. Mr. Barclay comes from a long line—his great-grandfather down—of Madison-born men and of died-in-the-wood Democrats. But not on this alone does he base his claims, but on his fitness for the position, ability to do justice to every tax-payer in the county and at the same time full justice to the county as a county. Mr. Barclay had the great misfortune of losing his right arm two years ago while working with a farm machine and is thus seriously handicapped in earning a livelihood for his wife and four children. He most respectfully asks your consideration of his claims for the office.

TURKS FORTIFY AN ISLAND

Place Defensive Works on the Island of Marmora in the Sea of Same Name.

Constantinople, Jan. 4.—Military dispatches say the Turks are fortifying the Island of Marmora in the Sea of Marmora.

It is believed that Abdul Hamid, former Sultan, has been secretly taken into the interior of Asia Minor, as he has left this city.

The Turkish forces in the west are commencing bridge building supplies to be used in crossing the Suez canal.

A big army of about 150,000 men has been concentrated in and around this city.

It is officially reported that the Turkish army under Enver Pasha, which invaded Transcaucasia, is making progress near Sarikamish. It is accompanied by a number of German military men.

Chasteen Caught.

Abe Chasteen, who shot and wounded Policemen DeVore and Wm. Maupin, and who has been in hiding ever since, was caught at Mt. Vernon Tuesday. Officer Claude DeVore went over to that place immediately to bring him back here yesterday, but he had to be helped, by advice of a physician. Chasteen resisted arrest and it took the sheriff, a deputy and the jailer to subdue him, he being considerably hurt about the head.

PLAN FOR CONSTRUCTING CONCRETE SILO

Well-Constructed Silos. 40 pounds of silage per cubic foot. (Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A well-constructed home-made silo will last indefinitely, and there is no danger of its blowing down, rotting out or being attacked by vermin, says Farmers' Bulletin 559 of the United States department of Agriculture.

The cost of the home-made silo depends so much on the size of the silo and on the local price of materials that no definite amount can be assigned which would be applicable to all conditions. Recently collected data on the cost of home-made silos show an average cost of concrete silos to be $2.58 per ton capacity. The stave silos cost $1.53 and the modified Wisconsin $1.43 per ton capacity. Silos of small diameters cost more per ton capacity than silos of large diameters.

There are some features which are essential to the construction of all silos and without which silage will not be kept in perfect condition.

1. The walls should be airtight. Since the keeping of silage depends upon the exclusion of air it is imperative that the walls of the silo be built in such a way as to keep out the air. The lumber should be well matched, and that containing large knots should be rejected. In concrete silos a wash on the inside with cement or with raw coal tar thinned with gasoline is effective in making the walls impervious to air. Care should be taken that the doors fit closely into their frames.

2. The walls should be smooth and plumb so that the silage will not adhere to them in settling and thus cause air spaces in the outer edge of the silage. Furthermore, the walls should be capable of standing considerable lateral strain without cracking or bulging. This is one reason why rectangular silos are unsuccessful.

3. The silo must be deep enough so that the pressure from above will thoroughly pack the silage and force out the air. The greater the pressure the less air in the silo and the less will be the loss of nutrition materials by fermentation.

4. The only form of silo to be recommended is one which is round. This form is the cheapest, capacity considered.

Gain From Use of Manure. The net return realized from a ton of yard manure under general farming conditions depends upon the soil, method of cultivation and crops grown. The Ohio experiment station has obtained an increase amounting to $4.60 per ton from yard manure used at the rate of eight tons per acre in a five-year rotation of corn, oats, wheat, clover and timothy. Four tons being supplied to corn and four tons to wheat, the return being the average for the three five-year periods, the average return from the yard manure used in all tests in which rotation is practiced has been $2.97 per ton for the whole time.

Green Cabbage Worm. For the green cabbage worm use dry paris green dusted on the cabbage when wet, or a spray made by mixing three pounds of paris green with 50 gallons of water, and adding two or three pounds of soap. For cauliflower white heliothrips should be used instead of paris green.

DEPTH OF THE TILE DRAINS

Type of Soil and Fall of Land Must Be Taken Into Consideration Before Starting Work.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE.) In putting in a system of tile drainage we must consider the type of the soil to be drained as well as the fall of the land before we decide upon the size of the tile and the depth it is to be placed.

On a coarse soil, where the object of the drainage system is to remove the soil water from around the roots of the plants, the tile should be laid three or four feet deep, but on a clay soil, I believe that the tile should be laid as shallow as is consistent with the climatic conditions and the fall of the land.

On clay soils the chief object of the drainage is to remove the surface water as rapidly as possible after heavy rains before it ruins the growing crops.

To do this it must have an easy access to the tile and for this reason they should not be put down more than two or two and a half feet deep.

On a clay soil it requires longer for the tile drainage system to become efficient after it is installed, because it takes longer for the watercourses to form through the cracks, decayed root passages and animal burrows, hence we will secure better immediate results from a shallow system of drainage than when the tile are placed deep.

It has required a number of years for some of the systems of drainage to become efficient in clay soils and few farmers can afford to wait a number of years for results.

On one of our farms the tile drains were installed 20 years ago and are doing far better work today than they did the first ten years they were put in. These drains were put in from three to four feet deep and for the first few years they did very poor service.

Aaron Sharp For Jailer.

Aaron Sharp, of Red House precinct, wants to be jailer of Madison county. Everybody, or nearly everybody, in the county of Madison, where he has spent his life, knows him. A Democrat tried and true, he has always stood by the party, has never held office, but now asks the democracy of the county to honor him with the nomination. He guarantees that if elected he will faithfully discharge his duties and that "no guilty man will escape." Ask his neighbors about him.

INFLUENCES TOUCHING SOIL

Thorough Pulverization of Soil Following Drought Tends to Increase Yields—Frost Is Factor.

Big crops usually follow a year of drought, in the main due to the thorough pulverization of soil from that agency. Frost is another factor that gives big crops whenever it enters the ground deeply, and either of these agencies will till the soil deeper than any tools can reach.

There is yet another agency which should never be neglected, deep-rooting plants, which, besides their mechanical and acid action on the soil, bring to the surface again fertility that has leached or that which is out of reach of the shallower rooted plants, or those with less subsoil penetration. Wheat or oats will attack the subsoil to a limited extent. Alfalfa and sweet clover will work with us and for us all the time.

While we work the top soil free of weeds, and retain the soil mulch, which will enable the alfalfa to survive, the plant roots are doing an infinitely greater work below, besides adding bacteria, bringing a soil to life that has lain practically dead, except at the very top, for all the ages that have gone.

The new Way ~
A Hoosier Cabinet makes a Model Kitchen

Why Do 700,000 Women Own Hoosier Cabinets?

When you know that 700,000 women use Hoosier Kitchen Cabinets three times every day, doesn't it suggest to you that you need this drudgery-saver in YOUR kitchen?

Figure it out to yourself this way: Would they have bought these cabinets without convincing themselves that they SAVE MILES OF STEPS and hours of time? Would so many have bought them at all if users hadn't told others and thus influenced their friends to buy them.

Since this means that more Hoosier Cabinets have been sold than all other 128 makes of cabinets combined, isn't it proof enough that the Hoosier is the best cabinet on the market?

When you see how the Hoosier groups four cupboards around a large metal table and places 400 articles at your fingers' ends so you can sit down and work AND REST while working—you'll want one of these "White Beauties."

Come pick one out today.

To the Tobacco Grower and the Men Who Sell It.

We wish to extend to you the greetings of the New Year, and to tell you incidentally that the Madison Tobacco Warehouse has sold 1,500,000 pounds of tobacco from the counties of Madison, Garrard, Rockcastle, Estill and others, and that it has sold the highest crop lot yet reported in the State, viz: the crop lot of Schooler & Curtis, of Round Hill, average $20.00. We also quote the crop lot of S. T. Hoover, of Lancaster, average $17.10. These were in the last days before the holidays. We want to tell you that we today sold the crop lot of Schooler & Campbell, of Cottonburg, 1300 pounds, at an average of $18.30, and the crop of Owen Agee, of Newby, 2300 pounds, average $16.50. S. P. Curtis sold 4000 pounds at an average of $14.00. It is by this means that we are again proving to you that the Madison House led the State last season in prices and it is doing the same thing again this season. You can bet your last dollar that when the returns are all in we will be right to the front in prices compared with any market anywhere.

We don't solicit tobacco on the streets, feeling that you know better than we can tell you just where you want your tobacco sold. Our sales are a sufficient reward to us for your confidence in our way of doing business. Our prices speak for themselves. We have long since known that what the seller of tobacco wants is every cent he can get for his crop. Getting it pleases him. This we have done. That's why so many come to us and the reason that other houses can't understand just how we do it. We happen to have the house, the light and the room and happen as well to have opened the first house on this market and we expect to use every means in our power that is honorable to keep this house right at the top of the lot. Let them compare; that's all we want, all we ask.

Daily sales, rain or shine. Biggest House, Biggest Prices, Biggest Sales, that's our trademark, that's our slogan. We can't sell all the tobacco grown in this county (no house can do that), but we are at the same old stand doing at least our part of the tobacco business. You know the reason, that's all.

Thanking you each and every one who has sold with us or who wishes our house the success it has attained, soliciting your future business, we are Very sincerely,

MADISON TOBACCO WAREHOUSE COMPANY, INC.

NOTHING BETTER FOR WEAK WOMEN

"I Never Spent Any Money That Did Me So Much Good as That I Spent for Vinol."

Bellefontaine, Ohio.—"I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good as that I spent for Vinol. My nerves were in a very bad condition, making me very weak, tired, and worn out and often drowsy headaches. I had tried cod liver oil, doctor's medicines, and other preparations without benefit.

"One day a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did and soon my appetite increased, I slept better and now I am strong, vigorous and well and can do my housework with pleasure."—Mrs. J. F. LAMBORN, Bellefontaine, Ohio.

Nervous, weak, tired, worn-out women should take Mrs. Lamborn's advice and try Vinol for there are literally thousands of men and women who were formerly run-down, weak and nervous, who owe their good health to Vinol.

It is the medicinal, tissue building element of the cod's livers, aided by the blood making, strengthening influence of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in all such cases.

Dr. Gordon Charms His Audience.

Dr. S. D. Gordon, the noted divine from the East, has commenced his series of meetings in this city, the first two of which were held in the First Christian church Sunday morning and evening.

Dr. Gordon is world-renowned as the quiet-talk man. He held his audiences throughout his interesting discourses with rapt attention. His sermons are of the very highest intellectual order, delivered without any ostentation whatever and with a driving home force that is not surpassed by any speaker. The people are looking forward to a great revival along religious lines brought about by this great divine. The time is ripe and the city is ready for such a movement. His preaching is a great intellectual treat and those who miss it will have many regrets.

A. D. Estes has rented for five years his home place and store at Newby to Jonah Wagers and W. J. Wilson, who will run the business under the firm name of Wagers & Wilson.

Mother Kills Baby And Ends Her Own Life.

Mrs. Lizzie Byrd, wife of Okie Byrd, of Lexington, on Thursday evening gave her little two-and-a-half-year-old daughter enough carbolic acid to cause her death and then swallowed the deadly drug herself, dying about midnight. They were taken to a hospital in that city as soon as the desperate deed of the grief-stricken woman became known, with the hope of saving their lives, but without avail. Domestic trouble was the cause of the terrible tragedy. Her husband and father were notified, but before they reached the hospital the wife and child both were dead.

Mrs. Byrd was a native of this county and for several years lived with Mr. and Mrs. John B. Gibson, in this city. She is a daughter of McClelland Hall, who lives on the Bennett farm, near White Hall. Mrs. Byrd left notes, one addressed to her mother, Mrs. M. C. Hall, and another to her sister, Mrs. Albert Hall, revealing the cause of her deed.

Mrs. Byrd was buried here Saturday, with her baby in her arms. The funeral was held at the residence of her sister, Mrs. H. C. Carpenter.

Mrs. Byrd was buried on January 2d in the Richmond Cemetery with her infant daughter clasped in her arms. The funeral was held at the residence of her sister, Mrs. H. C. Carpenter, of this city. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

Tobacco Market.

The Madison Tobacco Warehouse Co. calls your attention to its new advertisement and asks you to read it carefully. This house sold nearly 200,000 lbs. on Monday. The market was brisk and active, with a higher tendency, the better grades commanding good prices. The general floor average was much better. Among the highest priced crops sold were those of Owen Agee, of Newby—2,300 pounds at an average of $16.50, and Schooler & Campbell, Cottonburg, crop lot of about 1,500 pounds, average $18.90; S. P. Curtis' crop of 4,000 pounds, at an average of $14.00, and many more crops at $12.00 and upwards. Our market is holding its own with any and all comers.

To Our Absent Madisonians.

Whoever you are, wherever you are, we still have an interest in you. Let the home folks hear from you through our columns. You cannot write to all of us, but your letter in this paper will be read by all of us. Tell us of yourself, your children and grand-children. The tiny tot, just cutting a "toothy," has a place in our hearts.

To you, one and all, greetings. May the New Year bring to you much happiness and prosperity!

MARRIED

Mr. Thomas Williams, of Clark county, and Miss Elsie Davis, of this county, were married at the home of the bride, near Red House, Saturday evening.

Mrs. Williams is a beautiful and intelligent young woman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Davis. Mr. Williams is the son of R. I. Williams, of Clark, and is an industrious young man. After the wedding a delightful supper was served at the home of the bride, and a large gathering of relatives and friends enjoyed the feast. After a short bridal trip, the young couple will be at home to their friends in Clark county.

Mr. Hudson Dennis, of near College Hill, was married to Miss Ella Vaughn, the accomplished daughter of Mr. Jos. Vaughn, of College Hill, last Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Godbey in the presence of a few intimate friends of the family. The attendants were Mr. B. F. Edwards and Miss Ada Smith. Mr. Dennis is the son of Z. R. Dennis and is a young man of sterling worth.

Mr. John M. Hamilton, who now resides in North Carolina, made a flying trip to Exall county during the holidays where he was married to Miss Anna Mae Scrivner, a very handsome and accomplished young lady, the daughter of Ambrose Scrivner, former sheriff of Exall county. Mr. Hamilton is a brother of Hamilton Brothers, of this city. He and his bride spent several days with relatives in this county and left for their new home in North Carolina Tuesday night last.

We extend our congratulations and good wishes.

On Thursday afternoon, Dec. 14th at the parsonage, Rev. W. M. Williams united in holy wedlock James Johnson, of Brookstone, to Miss Bessie Conner, of Red House. They left immediately for Exall county for a short bridal tour.

On Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Jackson, in the East End, Mr. Steven Elvis and Miss Fannie Jackson, both of this city, were united in marriage, a priest from Cincinnati performing the ceremony.

The bride was very charming in a gown of white silk, with the long, white bridal veil arranged most becomingly. She is a young lady of gentle, unassuming manner and amiable disposition. The groom is a worthy and popular young man and for about two years has been, with Mr. Geo. Doumas, running the prosperous Paris Restaurant in this city. He has recently purchased a restaurant at Winchester, where the happy young couple will leave shortly to make their future home.

We extend to them our heartfelt congratulations.

Last Saturday evening R. C. Linville and Mrs. P. C. Price went over to Lexington and were married. Mr. Linville is a conductor on the L. & N. railroad, running between Richmond and Stanford. Mrs. Price lives in this city and was the widow of Capt. P. C. Price, who formerly had the same run now held by Capt. Linville. They returned Sunday at noon and will make their home in this city.

Miss Amy Parrish was hostess of the Mary Fattle Music Club last week at her home on the Summit. The subject for study was "The Geography and Topography of Europe." Mrs. C. D. Chenaunt, of Lexington, was the guest of the Chapter and she was given a most cordial welcome.

Miss Eleanor Hagan entertained charmingly Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Harold Oldham. Five hundred was the order of the entertainment, and five tables were used in the games. The highest score was made by Miss Margaret Covington; who was awarded a deck of cards, while the guest prize, a lovely blooming plant, was given to Mrs. Oldham. The afternoon closed with an elegant lunch of old ham, chicken salad, sandwiches, beaten biscuit, hot coffee, candy and nuts.

Miss Jamie Caperton was hostess of the Young Ladies' Bridge Club on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at her home, "Blair Park." The trophy was won by Miss Julia White. Following the games a delightful lunch was served.

.. In Society ..

Miss Annie Belle Burnside was hostess at a 6 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening complimentary to Miss Elizabeth Gibbs and her visitors, Misses Mary Elizabeth Lackey and Lucile Gibbs, of Richmond. The table appointments were most effective, the color scheme, yellow, being much in evidence, a floral basket decorated with a bow of gold on tulle serving as centerpiece. Covers were laid for the following: Messrs. Joe Prewitt, Chenaunt, Joe Parke, Miller Lackey, and Misses Lackey and Gibbs, of Richmond. Misses Jeannette and Elizabeth Eldridge and Charlie Elmore, Messrs. Chenaunt Elmore, J. E. Elmore, Louie and Frank Thider, Arthur Eldridge, the three honorees and hostess.—Lancaster Record.

Mr. Gordon Barnes was host of a beautiful dining on Wednesday, given to his graduating class and Prof. and Mrs. D. W. Bridges.

Mrs. William L. Arnold entertained on Wednesday with a lovely luncheon in compliance to Mrs. Riley Spears, who is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Turley.

Judge and Mrs. Clay Arnold, of Lancaster, entertained with a handsome luncheon on Monday in honor of the Arnold-Oldham bridal party.

Dr. Vardv Taylor entertained a number of his community friends at a 7 o'clock dinner Thursday at his beautiful home at Waco. Those present were: Prof. J. R. Robinson, Hon. C. L. Seary, Rev. B. O. Beck, A. R. Gibbs, N. C. Bonny, H. C. Bonny, Elmer Tate, D. Z. Taylor, W. L. Blanton, R. M. Rowland, James Lykins, B. F. Boggs, G. S. McKinney, C. B. Moores and A. W. Grinstead. After the five course dinner was served, Rev. Beck read a paper on "The Prince of Peace," which was discussed by Messrs. Blanton, H. T. Bonny and McKinney. Mr. Seary read a paper, "Should the U. S. Disarm (partially or completely) in the interest of Peace?" He presented a strong and convincing argument on the negative side of the question which was discussed at length by all present. Prof. Robinson's paper on "Domestic Peace,"—how secured and how perpetuated—was classical, and elicited the widest discussion.

Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hanger were in the receiving line at the Governor's reception at Frankfort last Friday evening. Mrs. Hanger was gowned in a white satin, trimmed with lace and pearls.

Mr. and Mrs. George Simmons gave a lovely dining on Sunday, the guests of honor being Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Goodloe, Miss Jane Goodloe and Miss Emily Simmons.

Mrs. Geo. Ballew was hostess of a lovely party on Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, given in compliment to Miss Eddie Rice, of Gadsden, Ala. The house was darkened and lighted with many crimson tapers, while holly and poinsettia were elegantly used in the parlor and hall. An profusely salad served in the form of flowers and fruit, was served with delightful hot coffee. The invited friends departed at 3 o'clock with many expressions of appreciation to their gracious host.

The first meeting of the Booneborough Chapter, D. A. R., for 1915, was held on Monday afternoon, January 4th, with Mrs. A. R. Burnam. The subject of study for the year, "The European War," was opened by Mrs. James W. Caperton with an instructive and beautifully given talk on "The Geography and Topography of Europe." Mrs. C. D. Chenaunt, of Lexington, was the guest of the Chapter and she was given a most cordial welcome.

Miss Burnam Taylor entertained with a beautiful party on Thursday evening from 8 to 12 o'clock in honor of Miss Hewe, of Henry county, who has been the attractive guest of Miss Marguerite Jett. The home on Broadway was prettily decorated with flowers and Christmas bells, and about thirty-five guests enjoyed the evening. Dancing was followed by a lovely lunch of ices, cakes and candies in the colors of pink and white.

Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Vaught gave a beautiful dining on Thursday at 6 o'clock in honor of Mr. Hale Dean, who will leave shortly for Florida.

Miss Margaret Douglas came home from Midway, where she has been attending school, and spent Christmas with her mother, Mrs. Alfred Douglas.

THE OLD YEAR is about at a close and we want to express our appreciation to all our friends who have in any way aided in the success of our business. If you have not been one of our many customers in the past, we trust you can see it to our mutual interests to visit us before the New Year 1915 closes. Those at the heat of affairs, and who ought to know, predict for us a most prosperous New Year and we hope they are right. With best wishes

We are very faithfully

THE LEXINGTON HERALD

Places Mailing List on Cash Basis.
Rate of $5 a Year Again Offered If Paid By January 15, 1915.

This Offer Is Open Alike To Old And New Subscribers.

On September 15 The Lexington Herald announced that from that date its mailing list would be conducted on a strictly cash in advance basis, all subscribers being discontinued on the first and fifteenth of each month who were not paid in advance. This practice was adhered to from that date, but on the 15th day of December it was decided by The Herald to continue all subscribers whose subscription expired between that date and the 15th day of January to the last named date, thus giving ample time for all who have been in the habit of paying on the first of the year to do so before expiration date. They also offer the rate of $5.00 to all those subscribers who will pay the full year in advance before January 15.

A daily newspaper was never a more welcome visitor to a home than it has been for months past and as it will be for months to come. The great war of Europe seems just in its beginning, while trouble seems again brewing on the Mexican border. The market about account of the unsettled conditions abroad and at home, continue to vary constantly and a daily newspaper is an absolute necessity to the farmer for his protection. Adv.

Prof. Phelps.

We are indebted to Mrs. Emily Chenault Evans, of Mountain Grove, Mo., for a clipping containing some excerpts from a speech made by Prof. R. K.
Phelps, principal of the Mountain Grove
High School, delivered to the Sorosis
Club of that little city.

Prof. Phelps was born in Madison county, near White Hall, and is a son of Joseph Phelps, who left this State about 20 years ago, when P. of Phelps was but a small child.

The address was highly complimented by the local press. His many relatives in this county will be glad to know of Prof. Phelps' preference in his adopted home.

The conclusion reads as follows:

"In conclusion, I want to go back to my original premise that America is the great melting pot for all the nations of the world. The modern American is a compound of practically all the nationalities of Europe. It would be difficult to separate him into his constituent elements and say which has been most influential in making him what he is.
But after a careful perusal of our social, political, economic, commercial and industrial development, it would be difficult to say that any factor has been more important than the Teuton.

"All the names I have mentioned have been those of illustrious men—men of genius, who have towered above their fellows. But there are now 5,000,000 people living in America who were born in Germany. I do not think I have mentioned the most important contribution of the Teutons to our civilization. I think that it has been themselves. The average German emigrant, just as he comes to the United States, has an important part to play in our national life —humble, obscure and unknown as he is. Such as he have given us those great foundational qualities—Germanic industry, frugality, thoroughness, faith and appreciation of the beautiful and the true. On such a basis we pin the hope of the Republic of the future. On such a basis rests the responsibility of saying whether this Republic will be, as it has been in the past, a Republic meeting the responsibilities of today and measuring up to the possibilities of the future; a Republic resting securely on the foundation stones, quarried by revolutionary patriots from the mountain of eternal truth; a Republic, proclaiming as principle and applying as practice, the self-evident proposition that men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with the inalienable rights of life, liberty and property; a Republic which shakes thrones and dissolves aristocracies by its silent example, and gives light and inspiration to those who sit in political darkness and despair; a Republic which solves the problems of civilization and hastens the oncoming of a universal brotherhood, whose history, like the path of the just, 'leaves the shining light, which shineth more and more unto the perfect day.'"

We Demand a Share of Your Business---And More!

THE survival of the fittest is accomplished by getting a little of the other fellow's business each season in addition to what is normally ours. Adverse weather or trade conditions can not and does not keep the people from our store. If you wish to feel the atmosphere of hard times disappear and gone, just step into OLDHAM'S BUSY STORE. The hard times WILL influence people to seek greener values and practice greater economy. This is the people demanding of others the Self-Same Policy that we have for a quarter of a century; and never in the entire history of the business have we offered values such as we have now for your inspection.

Saved Girl's Life

"I want to tell you what wonderful benefit I have received from the use of Thedford's Black-Draught," writes Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky.

"It certainly has no equal for a gripe, bad colds, liver and stomach troubles. I firmly believe Black-Draught saved my little girl's life. When she had the measles, they went in on her, but one good dose of Thedford's Black-Draught made them break out, and she has had no more trouble. I shall never be without

THEDFORD'S
BLACK-DRAUGHT

in my home." For constipation, indigestion, headache, dizziness, malaria, chills and fever, biliousness, and all similar ailments, Thedford's Black-Draught has proved itself a safe, reliable, gentle and valuable remedy.

If you suffer from any of these complaints, try Black-Draught. It is a medicine of known merit. Seventy-five years of splendid success proves its value. Good for young and old. For sale everywhere. Price 25 cents.

A TEXAS WONDER.

The Texas Wonder cures kidney and bladder troubles, dissolves gravel, cures diabetes, weak and lame backs, rheumatism, and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Regulates bladder troubles in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent by mail on receipt of $1.00. One small bottle is two months' treatment, and seldom fails to perfect a cure. Send for testimonials from this and other states. Dr. E. W. Hall, 2926 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo. Sold by druggists.

Sep. 30-14-1yr

Family Reunion.

Mrs. R. F. Edwards, of College Hill, had the pleasure of having with her for a family reunion Christmas day several children. This family is distinguished for the fact that it has three physicians, all of whom are prominent in their several localities and stand at the head of the profession. Two of her sons, Dr. B. J. and Dr. D. G. Edwards, live at Corbin; another son, Dr. J. E. Edwards, lives at Irvine, Ky. Another son, Prof. W. S. Edwards, is one of the leading educators of Eastern Kentucky and now has a chair in the Barbourville College. Another son, Chas. W. Edwards, is one of the efficient teachers of Madison county. The other two sons, Ben F. and G. L. Edwards, are at home. Her daughter, Mrs. J. E. French, of Vincennes, Ind., also had the pleasure of being with her mother at this reunion. Mrs. Edwards is enjoying good health and, with her numerous friends, we wish that she may have many more returns of the happy occasion.

How To Cure a La Grippe Cough.

"Coughs that hang on" demand treatment. Stop and think! Reason and common sense tell you that it is folly to "grip and bear it." Those racking la grippe coughs that wrench the body and cause soreness and pains in the lungs yield more quickly to Foley's Honey and Tar than to any other treatment. Forty years record of successes proves this. For coughs, colds, croup and other distressing ailments of throat, chest, lungs, larynx and bronchial tubes, you can find nothing that will compare with this reliable remedy. Sold by all Dealers everywhere.—Adv.

Where There's a Will There's A Way.

The students and faculty of Central University are making vigorous efforts to secure funds with which to replace the gymnasium, which was destroyed by fire a few weeks ago—on the very day it was to have been opened for use. R. P. Ernst, of Covington, an alumnus, has sent a check for $500; G. W. Welsh gave $1,000 and J. A. Cheek $1,000. Other smaller sums have been secured which, with the insurance, almost aggregate enough to replace the building.

City Comforts in Country: Keep The Family on Farm

The automobile has helped to make farm life more pleasant. Thousands of farmers have bought them and dealers have made money. But we have more to sell to the farmer, and a better reason for selling it than has the Auto dealer. We can convince the farmer that running water, Modern Plumbing, Sewerage, Disposal and Electric Lights will do more to make their life easier and happier all the year round than joy riding in summer. Estimates and information furnished promptly.

MISSION BELLS OF MONTEREY
Bells that rang. O bells that rang.
Above the martyr's wilderness
Till from that reddened coast line sprang
The gospel seed to cheer and bless.
What are your garnered sheaves today?
O mission bells, Eileon bells,
O mission bells of Monterey!

O bells that crash, O bells that clash
Above the chin-wedded plain,
On wall and tower your voices dash.
But never with the old refrain.
In mart and temple gone away,
Ye dangle bells, ye jangle bells,
Ye wrangle bells of Monterey!

O bells that die, so far, so high,
Come back once more across the sea,
Not with the zeal's furious cry,
Not with the creed's austerity;
Come with his love alone to stay,
O mission bells, Eileon bells,
O mission bells of Monterey!

—Bret Harte

BROTHERHOOD.

THAT plenty but reproaches me
Which leaves my brother bare;
Not wholly glad my heart to be
While his is bowed with care.
If I go free and sound and stout,
Will he not follow with grief?
Unstaid still, I'll still cry out
And plead with whom I think.

ALMIGHTY: Thou who Father be
Of him, of me, of all,
Draw us together, him and me,
That whosoever fall,
The other's hand may fall him not—
The other's strength decline.
No task of succor that his lot
May claim from son of thine.

I WOULD be fed, I would be clad,
I would be housed and dry,
But if it be my heart is sad—
What benefit have I?
Best be where shoulders best endure
The load which brings relief,
And he shall have his joy secure
Who shares that joy with me.

—Edward S. Martin

Keeping In Good Condition.
Many people suffer from indigestion and constipation and do not know it. A feeling of dullness and languidness, bitter taste in the mouth, headache, biliousness—most of those conditions when you "are not sick, but don't feel right!"—can be traced to sluggish bowels and torpid liver. Foley Cathartic Tablets cleanse the system, arouse the liver, banish indigestion and make you "feel good all over"—light, energetic and ambitious. Sold by all Dealers everywhere.—Adv.

Real Estate Transfers.
The following real estate transfers have been recorded in the county clerk's office since last issue:
Chas. Rupard to W. T. Bush, 3 acres, $1.00.
P. F. Bush to W. T. Bush, 50 acres, $1.00.
Bodie Conner to W. T. Bush, 8 acres, $125.
Eva Gibson Johnson, etc. to Morgan Taylor, 104 acres, $28.55.
Amy Iles to Polly P. Chenault, 21 ac's, $1,500.

TOWN LOTS.
Ida B. Hagerd to Edwin Brown, at Richmond, lot, $500.
James B. McCreary to H. M. Whittington, Richmond, $6,000.
Blanton Lumber Co. to W. E. Blanton, Richmond, $1,000.
Schneider & Sanders to Steven Estes, Kirksville, $375.

Five Cents Proves It.
A Generous Offer. Cut out this ad. and enclose 5 cents to Foley & Co., Chicago Ill., writing your name and address plainly, and receive a free trial package containing Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, for coughs, colds and croup; Foley's Kidney Pills, for kidney and bladder complaints, backache, pains in joints, rheumatism; and Foley Cathartic Tablets, a wholesome and thoroughly cleansing cathartic—try all three for 5 cents, the cost of mailing. Sold by all dealers everywhere.—Adv.

Combinations.
We can obtain any magazine of paper in combination with our paper. Now, while the spirit is on you, give your next relative or friend the Climax-Madisonian.

For Sale.
I desire to sell privately my residence at 345 Big Hill avenue, Richmond, Ky. This house is practically new. Has sanitary bath-room, hot and cold water, good cellar, six rooms, two halls, two verandas, lot 10x235 feet, good cistern and all necessary outbuildings. This is one of the prettiest and most convenient residences in the city. Interested party may call and inspect the property at any time. Address communications to Sam R. Hurst, Lock Box 33, Winchester, Ky.

Mexican Dollar.
Our estimated and silent friend, who never has anything much to say, Col. Theodore Wilson, of Noblesville, was in our office last week and exhibited a Mexican dollar, dated 1891, which he says his wife recently found in their "tater patch" in the garden. The dollar is well preserved and is highly prized by Col. Wilson.

STOP BUYING EXPENSIVE COUGH REMEDIES.
Make The Best At Home.
Money spent for the old style, ready-made, cough syrups in bottles holding only 2 to 2½ ounces is very largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it was all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better cough medicine at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to Henry L. Perry's Drug Store and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffman's Concentrated Expectant. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (16 ounces). This new, simple, pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold. Also excellent for Bronchitis, Asthma, Bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and whooping cough. One bottle will make enough home-made cough medicine to probably buy last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take and it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics as do most cough mixtures. Keep it on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above drug has been authorized to return the money in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy under this positive guarantee.—Adv.

HUNDREDS HEAR COOPER LECTURE.

Faulty Methods of Living Is Responsible For Most Diseases, He Says.

L. T. Cooper, the man who created such a favorable impression in the big Eastern cities with his health theories and medicine, has attracted immense gatherings in Lexington, where the famous philanthropist has delivered a series of lectures in connection with his introduction of Tanlac, the medicine that is producing such remarkable results in Central Kentucky.

Probably ten or fifteen thousand have heard Cooper talk during the past few weeks. Possessed of an unusual amount of personal magnetism, Cooper seems to draw his crowds from all walks of life, and from everywhere in the Blue Grass section.

During the course of a recent lecture, he said:
"Possibly the most prevalent and distressing condition known to we Americans is chronic catarrh of the mucous membranes of the throat and nose. It is the most frequent cause of dyspepsia and catarrhal conditions in the nose and throat lead to inevitable deafness. Show me a man whose hearing is affected and I will show you a man who is suffering from catarrh."

"Frequently," continued the great student, "the lungs become diseased by the extension of catarrhal inflammation by way of the bronchial tubes to the lung substance."
The mental and physical state of chronic catarrh sufferers is indeed, very unfortunate, and it is really surprising to know what an immense number of people are suffering from this almost universal malady when they think something else is wrong with them.

Cooper then enumerated the numerous symptoms of catarrh, such as an offensive breath, constant sniffling, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat, frequent sneezing, watery eyes, full head, headache, depression of spirits, nervousness, unsound digestion, lost appetite, and susceptibility to coughs and colds.

Cooper then told how the faulty methods of living produce rheumatism and kidney complaints. How the body, when the organs falter or fail, fills up with poisons generated by one's own system.
He explained how Tanlac, the miraculous medicine, would combat these conditions as it had done among the thousands of sufferers in the East, as well as many hundreds in Lexington, who had already used the preparation and found Tanlac an unfailing source of benefit. "Tanlac," he said, "builds up the constitution weakened by disease and mental and physical overwork, quickens convalescence, and is a source of comfort to the aged and infirm."

Tanlac is sold in Richmond by H. L. Perry, Druggist.—Adv.

Children's Coughs and Children's Colds—Both Are Serious.
When one of your little ones shows symptoms of an approaching cold, give it the little Pure-Tar-Honey at once. It acts quickly and prevents the cold growing worse. Very healing—soothes the lungs, loosens the mucous, strengthens the system. It's guaranteed. Only 25c at your Druggist. Buy a bottle today. Bucklen's Arnica Salve for Sores.—Adv.

Temperance

(Conducted by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union.)

DRINK AND CRUELTY.

Medical science tells us that an imperfect nervous system is often the cause of the tendency to cruelty sometimes seen in young children—that if a child shows a disposition to torture animals or abuse other children it does not follow that the boy or girl is a degenerate; it may be due to the presence of toxin in the blood. The well-known tendency to cruelty on the part of those addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants, bears out this statement. Men, who in sober moments are tender husbands and fathers, become transformed by strong drink into savages and fiends. Even the more "temperate" use of liquor tends to dull the sensibilities and becloud the finer instincts. The toxin in the blood of a moderate drinker, while not always causing a noticeable degeneracy in the man himself, is transmitted to his offspring, and in the third or fourth generation, if not before, is manifested in the "cruel tendencies" of children that excite our wonder.

RUINING A VESTED INTEREST.

Collier's Weekly, which with commendable frequency gives the liquor traffic in editorial columns, recently answered as follows the saloonist's claim that to destroy the saloon is to destroy a vested interest:

"Every generation raises its crop of fine old created Tennessees—some of them in the humble walks of life. And at last they oppose light—even as they once tried to resist lightning what Longfellow called the 'street lamps of the ocean.' The instance we have in mind is noted in Emerson's Journal. Sixty years ago the philosopher visited Nauset, on Cape Cod. 'Collins, the keeper, told us he found resistance on Cape Cod to the project of building a lighthouse on this coast, as it would injure the wrecking business.' Did you ever stop to think that our lighthouses have utterly ruined what used to be a vested interest?"

DISAPPROVAL OF LIQUOR.

The American Sheet and Tin Plate company of Vandergrift, Pa., which is a subsidiary concern of the United States Steel corporation, has placed the stamp of disapproval on liquor and drinking by notifying all employees that they must withdraw from fraternal organizations and clubs which maintain sideboards, or cease to work in the company's plants. They are also prohibited from indulging in liquor license applications.

This order, it is said, not only affects the 3,000 employees at the Leechburg, Hyde Park, New Kensington and Vandergrift plants, but all the plants of the company throughout the country.

AGAINST ALCOHOL.

Dr. C. W. Saleeby, the distinguished English physician and writer on eugenics, concludes his little book on "The Methods of Race Generation" with this remarkable sentence: "In the light of truth and the verdict of science it cannot be questioned that he who at this date is for alcohol is against civilization, and whatever ideals of justice and freedom and goodness we would transmit to the future. To all and sundry I say: Would you befriend mankind, women and children, protect parenthood from alcohol; and fear not that kind of laughter which is as the cracking of thorns under a pot."

STICKS TO TEMPERANCE.

A German spoke at a temperance meeting as follows: "I shall tell you how it was. I put my hand on my head; there was one big pain. Then I put my hand on my body and there was another. Then I put my hand in my pocket and there was nothing. Now there is no more pain in the head. De pains in my body are all gone away. I put my hand in my pocket, and there is twenty dollars. So I stay with me temperance."

FAVORS HIS OWN RULE.

Mr. George Perkins of the New York Life Insurance company gave a dinner to the directors of the great company. When a menu card was handed him for his selection he crossed out all for that such a thing would be preposterous and could not be done. Mr. Perkins replied: "We discriminate against the use of these in our policy holders. It is but fair we should abide by our own rule."

TOTAL ABSTINENCE DEMANDED.

Eighty-eight per cent of the manufacturers of the United States demand total abstinence of their workmen. About one million railroad men in this country have to be total abstainers from beer and all other intoxicating liquors.

BONUS FOR ABSTAINERS.

The Philadelphia Quarts company has offered a ten per cent bonus with the wages of men who sign an agreement to abstain from drinking altogether. Nearly all the 300 men employed have signed the agreement.

GOLDEN STREETS.

If we could turn all the liquor money into good roads, we could almost walk on golden streets to every American home, and find each home aglow with joy.—Noah D. Cooper, Nashville, Tenn.

Many ills come from impure blood. Can't have pure blood with faulty digestion, lazy liver and sluggish bowels. Burdock Blood Bitters is recommended for strengthening the stomach, bowels and liver and purifying the blood.—Adv.

Not Quite Perfect.

Danville aspires to a "whites way" and metropolitan airs! What! Are Dan Villians unwilling to let perfection alone after having boasted it for more than a half century!—Courier-Journal.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by the restoration of the impaired circulation of the blood to the ear. Deafness is caused by an impaired condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when the inflammation is taken out, and the tube is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out, and the tube is restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also cases out of ear cure by force, which is soiling but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. P. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

WONDERFUL MONEY SAVING OPPORTUNITIES IN A Monster January Clearance Sale

The season has now reached its end. We find ourselves with quite some merchandise on hand that should have been sold long ago. In order to convert this great stock into money we have decided to hold a reduction sale that will make new history for our town. Its going to be an event that the public for miles around will be compelled to take advantage of. We want every family to share in the "good times." Never in the history of this town were there such opportunities for saving money. The "mark-down-man" has gone through the entire store with his keen edged knife sharpened like a razor, and what he has done will startle our readers. The stocks, new and fresh as they are, must be closed out quickly, as they have been here longer than they should. There is no time to figure the cost to us. We cheerfully pocket our loss, feeling that by so doing we will make hundreds of new friends besides clinching the confidence of our hundreds of old ones. IT'S BETTER THAN PUTTING YOUR MONEY IN THE BANK to buy at this stupendous sale. You should get here as early as possible if you want choicest picking. It will be well worth your while. The savings are immense. A DOLLAR WILL BUY TWO DOLLARS WORTH AND MORE

THE $11,000,000.00 MYSTERY NEWS of the MOVIES

(By Harold McGrath)

"There was not a servant to be found in the entire house! What in the world could that mean? Used as she was to heartrending suspense, she was none the less terrified. Something had taken the servants from the house. From whence was the danger to come this time? Where was Jones? Why did he not return as he had promised? It was long past the hour when he said he would be back.

She went into the library and picked up the telephone. She was told that Mr. Norton was out on an assignment, but that he would be notified the moment he returned. She opened a drawer in the desk. She touched the automatic, but did not take it up. She left the drawer open, however.

Earlier, at the newspaper office that night, Jim went into the managing editor's office and laid a bulky manuscript on that gentleman's desk.

"It is this," said Jim.

"You have captured them?"

"No; but there is a net about them from which not one shall escape. There's the story of my adventures, of the adventures of Miss Hargreave and the butler, Jones. You'll find it exciting enough. You might just as well send it up to the composing room. At midnight I'll telephone the introduction. It's a scoop. Don't worry about that."

The editor rifled the pages.

"A hundred and twelve pages, 300 words to the page; man it's a novel!"

"I'll read like one."

"Sit down for a moment and let me skim through this story."

At the end of ten minutes the editor laid down the copy. He opened a drawer and took out two envelopes. The blue one he tore up and dropped into the waste basket. Norton understood and smiled. They had meant to discharge him if he fell down. The other envelope was a fat one.

"Open it," said the editor, smiling a little to himself.

This envelope contained a check for $2,500, two round-trip first-class tickets to Liverpool, together with innumerable continental tickets such as are issued to tourists.

"Why two?" asked Jim, innocently.

"Forget it, my boy, forget it. You ought to know that in this office we don't employ blind men. The whole staff is on. There you are, a fat check and three months' vacation. Go and get married; and if you return before the three months are up I'll fire you myself on grounds of desertion."

Jim laughed happily and the two men shook hands. Then Jim went forth to complete the big assignment. Five minutes later Florence called him up to learn that he had gone.

"What should she do?" Jones had told her to stay in the house and not to leave it. But where was he? Why did he not come? What was the meaning of his desertion by the servants? She wandered about aimlessly, looking out of windows, imagining forms in the shadows. Her imagination had not deceived her; she had heard doors close softly.

"Susan, Susan!" she murmured; but Susan was in the hospital.

"Oliver Twist!" What had possessed her to start reading that old tale again? She should have read something of a light and joyous character. After half an hour's wandering about the lonely house she returned to the library, feeling that she would be safer where both telephone and revolver were.

And while she sat waiting for the heart sending the blood into her throat so that it almost suffocated her, a man turned into the street and walked noiselessly toward the Hargreave place. He passed a man leaning against a lamp post, but he never turned to look at him.

This man, however, threw away his cigar and footed off to the nearest pay station. He knew in his soul that he had just seen the man for whom he had been hunting all these weary but strenuous weeks—Stanley Hargreave in the flesh! Half an hour after his telephone message the chief of the Black Hundred and many lesser lights were on their way to the house of mystery. Had they but known!

Now, the man who had created this tremendous agitation went serenely on. He proceeded directly and fearlessly to the front door, produced a latchkey and entered. He passed through the hall and reception room to the library and paused on the threshold dramatically. Florence stepped back with a sharp cry of alarm. She had heard the hall door open and close and taken it for granted that Jones had entered.

There was a tableau of short duration.

"Don't you know me?" asked the stranger in a singularly pleasant voice. Florence had been looking at him many times. She shook her head defiantly, though her knees shook so that she was certain that the least touch would send her over.

"I am your father, child."

Florence slipped unsteadily behind the desk and seized the revolver which lay in the drawer. The man by the curtains smiled sadly. It was a smile that caused Florence to waver a bit. Still she extended her arm.

"You do not believe me?" said the man, advancing slowly.

"No. I have been deceived too many times, sir. Stay where you are. You will wait here till my butler returns. Oh, if I were only sure!" she burst out suddenly and passionately. "What proof have you that you are what you say?"

He came toward her, holding out his hands. "This, that you cannot shoot me. Ah, the damnable wretch! What have they done to you, my child, to make you suspicious of every one? How I have watched over you in the street! I will tell you what only Jones and the reporter know, that the aviator died, that I alone was rescued, that I gave Norton the five thousand, that I watched the windows of the Russian woman, and overheard nearly every plot that was hatched in the council chamber of the Black Hundred; that I was shot in the arm while crossing the lawn one night. And now we have the second time, where we want them. They will be in this house for me within half an hour, and not one of them will leave it in freedom. I am your father, Florence. I am the lonely father who has spent the best years of his life away from you in order to secure your safety. Can't you feel the truth of all this?"

"No, no! Please do not approach any more! Stay where you are!"

At that moment the telephone rang. With the revolver still leveled she picked up the receiver.

"Hello! Hello! Who is it?"

"Oh, Jim, Jim, come at once! I am holding at bay a man who says he is my father. Hold him where he is, you say? All right, I will. Come quick!"

"Jim!" murmured the man, still advancing. He must have that revolver. The poor child might spoil the whole affair. "So what Jones tells me is true; that you are going to marry this reporter chap?"

She did not answer.

"With or without my consent?"

If only he would drop that fearless smile! she thought. "With or without anybody's consent," she said.

"What in the world can I say to you to convince you?" he cried. "The trap is set; but if Braine and his men come and find us like this, good heaven, child, we are both lost! Come, come!"

"Stay where you are!"

"At that moment she heard a son of at the door. Her gaze roved; and it was enough for the man. He reached out and caught her arm. She tried to tear herself loose.

"My child, in God's name, listen to reason! They are entering the hall and they will have us both."

Suddenly Florence knew. She could not have told you why; but there was an appeal in the man's voice that went to her heart.

"You are my father!"

"Yes, yes! But you've found it out just a trifle too late, my dear. Quick! This side of the desk!"

Braine and his men dashed into the library. Olga entered leisurely.

"Both of them!" yelled Braine exultantly. "Both of them together; what luck!"

There was a sharp, fierce struggle; and when it came to an end Hargreave was trussed to a chair.

"Ah, so we meet again, Hargreave!" said Braine.

Hargreave shrugged. What he wanted was time.

"A million! You have you. Where is it, or I'll twist your heart before your eyes."

"Father, forgive me!"

"I understand, my child."

"Where is it?" Braine seized Florence by the wrist and swung her toward him.

"Don't tell him, father; don't mind me," said the girl bravely.

Braine, smiling his old evil smile, drew the girl close. It was the last time he ever touched her.

"Look!" screamed Olga.

Every one turned, to see Jones' face peering between the curtains. There was an ironic smile on the butler's lips. The face vanished.

"After him!" cried Braine, releasing Florence.

"After him!" mimicked a voice from the hall.

The curtains were thrown back suddenly. Jones appeared, and Jim and the Russian agent and a dozen policemen. Tableau!

Braine was the only man who kept his head. He floored Norton, smothered

The Escape of Countess Olga. The vanishing act assailed his nostrils. What these fumes were he never knew, but they proved to be transitory. Five minutes sufficed to bring all back to their senses. For the while they forgot Olga.

"This man is mine," said Servan, nodding toward Braine.

"He's yours without charge," said Jim.

"I'm an American citizen," said Braine, who, realizing what the sure hold, readily preferred a long prison term in America to the horrors of Russian exile.

"Your certificate has been destroyed," said Servan, "and the state department considers your papers void because you obtained them under false oaths. You are an undesirable citizen; and the republic is happy to learn that you will be taken off its hands."

"And because," added Norton, "you have laid too many mines in the black-mailing business, and the government does not propose to have them made known to the public through a long and useless trial. It was a long run, old top; but right is right. And by the way, I want you to meet Mr. Jackson, formerly of Scotland Yard."

He indicated Jones, who started.

"Yes," went on the reporter, "I recognized him long ago."

"It is true," said Hargreave, taking Jones' hand in his own. "Fifteen years ago I employed him to watch my affairs, and very well he has done so. And to you, you wretch, turning upon the haggard Braine, 'listen; there is a million, and you have been within a foot of it a dozen times. It has been under your very nose. Do you remember Poe's 'Purloined Letter'?"

"Under your very nose, within touch of your hand! Now, take him away, Mr. Servan. The police will be satisfied with the prisoners they have."

So, presently, Hargreave, Jones, Florence and Jim were alone. That smile which had revealed to Florence her father's identity stole over his face again. He put his hand on Jim's shoulder and beckoned to Florence.

"Are you really anxious to marry this young man?"

Florence nodded.

"Well, then, do so. And go to Europe with him on your honeymoon; and as a wedding present to you, I will give you a hundred; and when you get tired of travel you will both come back here to live. The Black Hundred has ceased to exist."

"And now," said Jones, shaking his shoulder.

"Well?" said Hargreave.

"My business is done. Still—Jones paused.

"Go on," said Hargreave soberly.

"Well, the truth is, sir, I've grown used to you. And if you'll let me play the butler till the end I shall be most happy."

"I was going to suggest it."

Norton took Florence by the hand and "Where are you taking me?" she asked.

"I'm going to take this pretty hand of yours and put it flat upon $1,000,000. And if you don't believe it, follow me."

She followed.

THE END.

TELLS ON THE KIDNEYS

Richmond People Have Found This To Be True.

The strain of overwork tells on weakened kidneys. The busy and worry of business men, the heavy lifting and stooping of workmen, the women's household cares, tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they can no longer filter the poison from the blood and the whole body suffers from the waste matter that accumulates. Weakened kidneys need quick assistance. Doan's Kidney Pills are prepared especially for weakened kidneys, tired, worn-out backs—have proven their merit in thousands of such cases. Convincing proof of their worth in Richmond citizen's statement.

Mr. Claude Harris, 131 North Eastl avenue, Richmond, Ky., says: "My back was lame and my kidneys were out of order. The trouble kept me awake at night and I felt miserable during the day. Since I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Middleton's Drug Store, I have felt better. The action of the kidneys was regulated and the pains left."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Harris had. Foster-Milburn Co., Proprietors, Buffalo, New York.

Here's one for Luke McLuke: "Tom Turnipseed lives in Orangeburg, Ky."

Stop The Child's Colds—They Often Result Seriously.

Colds, Croup and Whooping Cough are children's ailments which need immediate attention. The after-effects are often most serious. Don't take the risk—don't have to. Norma Phillips, "Our Mutual Girl."

MISS NORMA PHILLIPS, who plays leading roles for Mutual films and is known as "Our Mutual Girl," is now doing weekly reels, or chapters, on life in New York City. They are true to life and interesting.

Lillian Gish and Blanche Sweet are among the most beautiful young women engaged in motion picture work. They are under twenty years of age and at one time or another played child parts on the legitimate stage. They appear in Reliance films.

Rorke's Drift, one of the most celebrated battles in English history, has been made the subject of a two reel drama by Edison. In the actual fight 4,000 Zulus were held at bay by a company of eighty British soldiers whom they attacked. When preparing to make this film down in Jacksonville Fla., Director Ridgely could not get to gether a large enough force of men for the battle scenes. So he adopted the classic sandwich man as a last resort and succeeded in that way in gathering a great crowd.

A gorgeous three reel feature by the "Flying A" company under Lorimer Johnston has been evolved on the basis of Schumann's "Tramper." The action is immense, and the interest is retained throughout the production.

The strategies of hunting wild geese in California offers a subject for a two reel picture which the California Motion Picture corporation has released.

What is probably one of the most daring attempts to use wild animals in pictures is George Kleine's latest masterpiece from the Cines studios in Rome. The title of this six part feature is "Between Savage and Tiger." Three Royal Bengal tigers, brought from Calcutta to Rome for the purpose, meet death in the manufacture of the film.

Louise Glauw has joined Harry Edwards' company at the Universal and is playing opposite Universal like. Miss Glauw was leading lady in the Nestor comedy company for a long time. Later she took leads with Carlyle Blackwell.

"Classmates" (K. & E. Biograph, four reels) is a film dramatization of Winchell Smith's famous play of the same name. The story is concisely told, the characters well separated and the action fast. The photography is good.

The arena scene in "The Triumph of an Emperor" (World's Film Corporation) by the Savola company actually rivals the one in "The Last Days of Pompeii," while the banquet setting and its action seem better than the one in the famous production of "Quo Vadis."

vacillating feminine mind. Decide to correct this error.

The action of a woman in public is the best test of her manners. After all, the behavior when there is no one looking is a fine criterion by which an individual should be rated. So be careful in public.

Courtesy For Sisters.

A large, round table at a certain famous summer hotel accommodated a family the parents of which say they never intend to grow old. Hand some themselves, they were surrounded by four beautiful children, two sons and two daughters. The mother remarked with pride that each boy had a sister to care for until he or she married.

The effect of the arrangement was plainly evident to those who noted the attention the girls received. The boys had been taught to place their sisters' chairs at the table, to help them with their wraps, to see that they had all the necessary attention at the informal hotel parties—in short, to do all those pretty things that many boys never dream of doing until they have met the "one girl," who probably is some one else's sister.

Disposing of the Spoon.

When drinking from a cup the spoon is left in the saucer. It should never be left for a moment in the cup, being used only to stir and dissolve the sugar.

Manners Make the Man.

Manners are of more importance than laws, being the foundation stones of civilization.

The Water Clock.

The earliest application of the clepsydra principle to produce motion was by Tsang Hung, A. D. 125, who made an "orrey" representing the apparent motion of the heavenly bodies around the earth, which was kept going by dropping water. In the third century of the Christian era an instrument was used in China which indicated the course of time by the weight of water as it gradually came from the beak of a bird and was received in a vessel on a balance, every pound representing a one-hundredth part of the day of twenty-four hours. About this time water began to be employed in clepsydras instead of water.

A Skip and Jump Age.

Carelessness costs many a life, it sacrifices many a fortune and ruins many a promising prospect. A crusade for efficiency may be carried too far, but it is sadly needed. We live in a "skip and jump" age. Somebody tells some one else of "a good thing," and some one else proceeds to buy it because "somebody" did. We are all kinds of queer fashions—in dress, in modes of living and in everything else—doing it thoughtlessly, carelessly and indifferently. Then we wonder why some succeed and so many fail. Perhaps the "some" are not so careless. Perhaps the "some" do a little more thinking than the others.—Jasper to Leslie's.

BLOUSE FANCIES.

The neck cord fastening to the simple white blouse is an attractive feature. Crepe de chine blouses have chemises, collars and bands of hemstitched Paris motifs.

Some of the new blouses have darts in them and fitted girdles. All tones of yellow, especially maize, are in favor for separate blouses. Figured crepe de chine blouses make a delightful change.

Long kimono sleeves, tapering to the wrist, are as popular as ever. Burnt banana and green apple are among the new colors.

SIMPLE BUT SURE

Hyomei, The Great Catarrh Remedy. "Just Breathe It" And Be Cured.

Do not try to cure catarrh, head colds, or sniffles by taking drugs. These common but dangerous ailments that often cause the loss of hearing cannot be cured that way. The common sense method is to breathe Hyomei, which gets the medication right where it is needed to heal the raw and inflamed lining of the air passages.

Hyomei is a mixture of antiseptic oils—you breathe it—no bother, no disagreeable medicine, simply use the inhaler a few times daily and this health-giving medication will quickly soothe and heal the irritated tissues, stop distressing choking and unpleasant discharges—you breathe freely—dull headaches cease, and every catarrhal symptom soon vanishes.

There is nothing more simple and safe to use, or that gives such rapid and lasting benefit as Hyomei—and B. L. McDevitt sells it on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan.—Adv.

Itching, torturing skin eruptions, disfigure, annoy, drive one wild. Doan's Ointment is praised for its good work. 50c at all drug stores.—Adv.

Lillian Gish.

Louise Glauw has joined Harry Edwards' company at the Universal and is playing opposite Universal like. Miss Glauw was leading lady in the Nestor comedy company for a long time. Later she took leads with Carlyle Blackwell.

"Classmates" (K. & E. Biograph, four reels) is a film dramatization of Winchell Smith's famous play of the same name. The story is concisely told, the characters well separated and the action fast. The photography is good.

The arena scene in "The Triumph of an Emperor" (World's Film Corporation) by the Savola company actually rivals the one in "The Last Days of Pompeii," while the banquet setting and its action seem better than the one in the famous production of "Quo Vadis."

vacillating feminine mind. Decide to correct this error.

The action of a woman in public is the best test of her manners. After all, the behavior when there is no one looking is a fine criterion by which an individual should be rated. So be careful in public.

Courtesy For Sisters.

A large, round table at a certain famous summer hotel accommodated a family the parents of which say they never intend to grow old. Hand some themselves, they were surrounded by four beautiful children, two sons and two daughters. The mother remarked with pride that each boy had a sister to care for until he or she married.

The effect of the arrangement was plainly evident to those who noted the attention the girls received. The boys had been taught to place their sisters' chairs at the table, to help them with their wraps, to see that they had all the necessary attention at the informal hotel parties—in short, to do all those pretty things that many boys never dream of doing until they have met the "one girl," who probably is some one else's sister.

Disposing of the Spoon.

When drinking from a cup the spoon is left in the saucer. It should never be left for a moment in the cup, being used only to stir and dissolve the sugar.

Manners Make the Man.

Manners are of more importance than laws, being the foundation stones of civilization.

The Water Clock.

The earliest application of the clepsydra principle to produce motion was by Tsang Hung, A. D. 125, who made an "orrey" representing the apparent motion of the heavenly bodies around the earth, which was kept going by dropping water. In the third century of the Christian era an instrument was used in China which indicated the course of time by the weight of water as it gradually came from the beak of a bird and was received in a vessel on a balance, every pound representing a one-hundredth part of the day of twenty-four hours. About this time water began to be employed in clepsydras instead of water.

A Skip and Jump Age.

Carelessness costs many a life, it sacrifices many a fortune and ruins many a promising prospect. A crusade for efficiency may be carried too far, but it is sadly needed. We live in a "skip and jump" age. Somebody tells some one else of "a good thing," and some one else proceeds to buy it because "somebody" did. We are all kinds of queer fashions—in dress, in modes of living and in everything else—doing it thoughtlessly, carelessly and indifferently. Then we wonder why some succeed and so many fail. Perhaps the "some" are not so careless. Perhaps the "some" do a little more thinking than the others.—Jasper to Leslie's.

BLOUSE FANCIES.

The neck cord fastening to the simple white blouse is an attractive feature. Crepe de chine blouses have chemises, collars and bands of hemstitched Paris motifs.

Some of the new blouses have darts in them and fitted girdles. All tones of yellow, especially maize, are in favor for separate blouses. Figured crepe de chine blouses make a delightful change.

Long kimono sleeves, tapering to the wrist, are as popular as ever. Burnt banana and green apple are among the new colors.

SIMPLE BUT SURE

Hyomei, The Great Catarrh Remedy. "Just Breathe It" And Be Cured.

Do not try to cure catarrh, head colds, or sniffles by taking drugs. These common but dangerous ailments that often cause the loss of hearing cannot be cured that way. The common sense method is to breathe Hyomei, which gets the medication right where it is needed to heal the raw and inflamed lining of the air passages.

Hyomei is a mixture of antiseptic oils—you breathe it—no bother, no disagreeable medicine, simply use the inhaler a few times daily and this health-giving medication will quickly soothe and heal the irritated tissues, stop distressing choking and unpleasant discharges—you breathe freely—dull headaches cease, and every catarrhal symptom soon vanishes.

There is nothing more simple and safe to use, or that gives such rapid and lasting benefit as Hyomei—and B. L. McDevitt sells it on the "No-cure-no-pay" plan.—Adv.
